

adapt

To change in order to fit new conditions

Humans adapt to the different climates on Earth in many ways. Types of homes that are built and clothing that is worn are two important adaptations to climate.

